Library Cards

For UBC faculty, staff and students, your UBCcard is your library card. It is used to borrow UBC library materials and to access online resources and services.

UBC Clinical Faculty can request, activate, or renew your UBC Clinical Faculty Library card online at:

<http://services.library.ubc.ca/borrowing-services/library-cards/faculty/library-card-activation-for-ubc-clinical-faculty/>

BCCH and BCW staff are eligible for an Affiliated Hospital Staff card. Apply at the Study & Learning Commons located on Shaughnessy F4.

The card must be renewed on an annual basis. Please note that this card does not provide remote access to UBC licensed online resources.

Faculty may authorize secretaries, research assistants, or collaborators to access services in their name for UBC academic use. Apply using the form found at:

<http://www.library.ubc.ca/home/forms/facauthform.pdf>

Online Access

Login to electronic resources via the UBC Library website <www.library.ubc.ca> with either your Campus-Wide Login (CWL) or library card barcode/PIN.

Document Delivery (DocDel)

Use the UBC Library catalogue to request books and articles from UBC library branches. Look for the "Order via Document Delivery" link on the right side of the catalogue holdings information record.

Books can be delivered to the Study & Learning Commons for pick up. Articles will be delivered via email. There is no fee for delivery between UBC campuses, including BCCH and BCW.

Interlibrary Loan (ILL)

Items not available at any UBC library branch or online may be requested through the Interlibrary Loan service. To make an ILL request, visit: <http://services.library.ubc.ca/borrowing-services/ill/>

Depending on the supplying library, articles may arrive within 1-2 business days, and books will take at least 7 days or longer.
