

Interview Someone Else About Yourself!

Have you ever been asked “What are you going to do or be when you get older?” That can be a tough question to answer. It takes time to learn about the opportunities available and what you would enjoy doing. Sometimes, those closest to you have a good idea of your talents and what you might enjoy doing for work.

EXERCISE: Complete this interview with someone you know. Have him / her answer each question. Then, discuss the answers with someone close to you.
