

Adult Care Is Different

. . . . not bad, just different.

THEY will:

- 1) expect to meet with you alone, or with your family /caregivers with your consent
- 2) ask you questions about your condition and health.
- 3) expect you to know about your medications and past treatments
- 4) expect you to take responsibility for your care and treatments (as you are able)
- 5) ask for your opinion and ideas in planning your care
- 6) ask for your consent to treatment and surgeries
- 7) possibly, see you less often than your pediatric team
